SHALL SAN MATEO COUNTY BE ANNEXED TO SAN FRANCISCO

Conference of Representatives of Civic Organizations of County Held at San Mateo Last San Mateo Saturday.

Last Saturday afternoon, a conference of representatives of civic organizations of the first and second townships of this county was held at the Peninsula Hotel, San Mateo, to discuss the advisability of starting an agitation looking toward the annexing of a portion of San Mateo county to the city of San Francisco.

The meeting, which was well attended, was held under the auspices of the San Mateo board of trade, and was called to order by L. H. Newbert, its president, who was later selected as permanent chairman of the annexation committee which was organized.

Paul Pinckney, secretary of the San Mateo board of trade, was chosen as permanent secretary of the committee. Chairman Newbert announced the purposes of the meeting. He stated that conferences had been held with the members of the real estate board in San Francisco, and as a result invitations had been sent to the various civic bodies of this county north of San Mateo to send representatives to this conference.

South San Francisco, San Bruno, Burlingame and San Mateo were represented.

In order to obtain the sentiment of those present, Chairman Newbert called on W. J. Martin of this city as the first speaker.

Mr. Martin said that lately he had traveled through the county with a wealthy man, who observed while the waters of the main channel of the bay lapped the eastern shores of San Mateo county, there was no improved water front. The merchants of San Francisco are complaining of lack of patronage. The reason for that is the fact that thousands of people who work in San Francisco live across the bay, where they also do their trading. There are splendid street car facilities over there and the employees of the hundreds of factories located there also live there.

In the past, San Mateo county has been almost inaccessible. Will annexation solve the problem? The location of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at Tanforan in this county will force the railroads to still further improve their transportation facilities.

A committee should be appointed whose duty it would be to look into this matter carefully. At heart we are San Franciscans. If we can cause the big city to grow this way let us do it.

F. J. Glunk of Burlingame was the next speaker. He said he would speak on the subject at a later meeting when he would be better informed. The success of the upbuilding of Oakland is to a great extent brought about by the fact that it advertises its resources in fourteen different eastern newspapers.

E. M. Stack and F. D. Lorton of Burlingame stated that the general sentiment in their town was favorable to the annexation movement.

Andrew Hynding of this city said he thought the proposition would be all right if improvements were given to outlying districts the same as is done in eastern cities.

T. D. Boardman, of the San Francisco real estate board, then followed. He said there are many things to look into. There are several reasons why San Mateo county people will be the gainer if annexed to San Francisco. A million people can wield more influence than a lesser number. Capitalists will become interested and make investments. There is also a political feature connected with this movement. Political control will be a difficult problem. If early action is wanted, it must be done under the present San Francisco charter. The right man must be selected to take the matter to Sacramento and present it to the legislature. He guaranteed the support of the San Francisco real estate board in having an enabling act passed permitting the city of San Francisco to take in San Mateo county at present and later the cities on the east side of the bay can be included.

Thos. L. Hickey of this city said annexation is bound to come. He had advocated that the matter be discussed among the various improvement clubs of the north end of the county. The people of this county want to know what the benefits will be.

Secretary Pinckney introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that the movement looking to the annexation of certain portions of San Mateo county to San Francisco—the boundaries of same to be determined later—be diligently pressed with the view to evolving a scheme or system of government for the greater city to be so created, that will be mutually advantageous and acceptable both to the people of San Francisco and to those of the territory sought to be annexed thereto.

Resolved, further, that no scheme of consolidation will be acceptable to the people of San Mateo county that does not guarantee local self-government to the various units constituting the greater city, with equal privileges and rights to all, the borough system of New York being recommended for consideration in this respect.

Resolved, further, that the original joint committee representing the two counties at interest be authorized to take such measures as may be necessary to enlist the services of various working committees broadened on such lines as will make them thoroughly representative of all the territory concerned in this project, and that the best talent and influence avail-

MERRY SCRAMBLE FOR COUNTY OFFICES NOW GOING ON

There Are Several Outs Who Will Try to Break Into County Positions This Year--Petitions Galore

The new direct primary law has created a great amount of activity among San Mateo County office-seekers this year.

In the republican party, many aspirants to office have shown their heads, having heretofore been pretty much in the background.

Great swarms of political bees are buzzing and are making a great deal of noise up and down the line.

The new deal will keep all the old-time republican politicians guessing until the results of the primaries in August are announced.

The field is open, and any republican who is a citizen and who files legal petitions can run for any office he wants to.

The report the first of this week that Dr. J. L. Ross of Redwood City was going to seek the democratic nomination for coroner and public administrator in opposition to Dr. Harry Plymire, who will no doubt receive the republican nomination, startled the many hundreds of friends of Dr. Harry, for obvious reasons. It was thought that some sort of peculiar politics was being done, out of the ordinary. Later, Dr. Ross announced that he was not a candidate.

In addition to the political gossip previously published in THE ENTERPRISE it is learned that several new republican candidates are in the field. Attorney Kenneth M. Green of San Mateo is mentioned as a candidate for the office of district attorney.

Attorney Green is the son of Judge Milton J. Green, United States referee in bankruptcy.

There are some rumors that former County Clerk H. W. Schaberg will contest with Joe Nash, present county clerk, for that office, but nothing definite has developed.

The fight for the republican nomination for assemblyman promises to be a lively one. Thos. L. Hickey of this city, Al Lowe of Redwood City, and Jas. E. Fitzgerald of Menlo Park have been mentioned in addition to Ex-Assemblyman Henry Ward Brown of Colma.

No opposition has developed to the republican renomination of present treasurer, P. P. Chamberlain.

It is reported that Geo. A. Kertell of San Mateo, foreman of the last grand jury, will seek the republican nomination for supervisor to represent the second township.

J. H. Coleman, present supervisor for that district, has informed his friends that he will retire.

The names of Fred D. Lorton of Burlingame and Maurice Powers of San Mateo have been mentioned as republican aspirants for this office.

And still the merry scrap goes on.

DEMOCRATS MEET.

A conference of leading democrats of San Mateo County was held at Redwood City last Saturday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by Wm. H. Almon, chairman of the democratic county committee.

Supervisor P. H. McEvoy was selected as chairman of the meeting and John F. Ford as secretary.

Upon request of Dr. J. L. Ross, Attorney Archer Kincaid explained the workings of the direct primary law.

Judge Geo. H. Buck advised as to the lawful procedure of the meeting. He also made a motion that the county committee take charge of petitions of candidates for office at a nominal expense, and file same with the county clerk. The motion carried.

Upon motion of Chris Stillsen the following named canvassing committee, whose duty it will be to get candidates to fill the democratic ticket, was appointed by the chair:

First Township—J. T. Casey, W. A. Almon, Geo. Wallace.

Second—D. C. Brown, H. N. Royden, J. F. Ford.

Third—A. Kincaid, Geo. E. Meekins, P. H. McEvoy.

Fourth—Jos. Debenedetti.

Fifth—John McCormick.

The committee will report at 2 o'clock on Saturday, June 4th, at which time the conference will assemble for final action.

FRUIT CROP OF WEST DAMAGED

Pacific Coast Expected to Supply Fruit Shortage

Six of the great central lake district States must buy all their fruit from other States this season, and twelve or more States will have but a partial crop. This was made certain following a careful examination of the frozen buds and twigs. All garden vegetables also have suffered severely, and Chicago must draw its supply from distant points as the result of the blizzard and freezing weather of the last few days. The temperature is slowly rising and snow and sleet has turned to rain, which has fallen incessantly. The same conditions are reported from Minnesota, Wisconsin, portions of Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

The latest estimates of the loss to fruit, vegetable and grain crops put the total above $35,000,000, distributed as follows: Michigan, $6,000,000; Indiana, $5,000,000; Wisconsin, $3,000,000; Nebraska, $3,500,000; Illinois, $3,000,000; Iowa, $9,000,000; Missouri, $2,500,000; Kansas, $3,000,000; Ohio, $1,500,000; Kentucky, $1,500,000.

Losses in Tennessee, the Dakotas and other States will not be so heavy, as the storms devastated only portions of their crop. In the estimates no account is taken of the permanent crippling of young trees and the destruction, partial or complete, of vines and plants.

POMEROY WANTS REHEARING

Jesse Pomeroy, Child Slayer, Asks Supreme Court to Rehear Case.

Jesse Pomeroy, the famous life prisoner, most of whose existence has been passed in the State Prison of Massachusetts for child murder, wants the United States Supreme Court to pass upon his conviction and sentence. He makes the point that this court has never passed upon the case. Pomeroy was seen by Lieutenant-Governor Frothingham and the Executive Council of the prison. He said to them:

"I have discovered that my right to have my case heard before the United States Supreme Court has been either overlooked or neglected. I did not know I had this right until recently. I want the Supreme Court to issue a writ of certiorari to compel the clerk of the District Court to report the findings in my case. As a matter of law, I do not belong here. The Assistant District Attorney has been here to see me about the matter, and we have talked it over. I am a poor man, and lack money to get legal advice. I have done most of the work preparing my case myself. I want the matter laid before the United States Supreme Court at the present session."

Pomeroy, now a haggard looking man, is apparently close to 60 years of age.

HETTY GREEN WILL RETIRE

Plans to Put Her Vast Wealth in the Hands of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Hetty Green, celebrated for years as the richest and shrewdest business woman in the world, will soon retire from active business life, it is understood, and will turn over the handling of her immense fortune, estimated at $50,000,000, to her daughter, Sylvia, now Mrs. Sylvia Astor Wilkes.

For months it has been rumored that Mrs. Green's health is failing, and these rumors have been partially substantiated during the last few weeks by the irregularity of the aged woman's visits to her office in the Chemical National Bank, New York, and her feeble appearance when she does materialize there.

Among the few persons in close touch with Mrs. Green it is understood that for years she has been quietly training her daughter to manage her immense fortune, and that since her daughter's marriage to Wilkes, with its accompanying possibilities of an heir, this training has been increased. It is reported now that the transfer of active control of Mrs. Green's millions to her daughter for management is only a question of a few weeks.

One of Mrs. Green's greatest disappointments in life, it is said, has been the non-inclination of her son, Edward H. R. Green, who lives in Texas, to become as famous a financier as herself. At one time she put $20,000,000 into Southwestern railroads for her son, so that he might become a railroad magnate.

LINCOLN MONUMENT FUNDS ARE MISSING

Congress May Start Inquiry to Learn Where $100,000 Is

Congressional investigation*to discover what became of $100,000 contributed to erect a monument to Abraham Lincoln is being urged by some of the original subscribers, who, about forty years ago, made donations to the fund ranging from $1 to $100.

Congress incorporated an association on March 19, 1867, to erect a monument to Lincoln, and Senator Cullom was one of the original members of the board of trustees. An act of Congress provided that no metal or cannon should be donated to the association until $100,000 had been raised, and inasmuch as twelve bronze cannon were donated by the Government on July 15, 1870, it would seem that the board of trustees had satisfied Congress that at least $100,000 was available.

"I know nothing of the funds," said Senator Cullom recently. "I don't know who does. There have been several attempts to trace the funds of the association, but I don't know what success attended the efforts."

CLEVER JEWELRY FRAUDS

Swindle That Covered Many States Costs Dealers Heavily.

Details of what is described as one of the most gigantic jewelry frauds of recent years, with merchants of many of the larger cities as the victims, were given out in a formal statement issued by M. D. Rothschild, president of the Jewelers' Board of Trade, an organization of jewelers all over the country. The losses are estimated to date at $500,000, and a full investigation, it is said, will greatly increase these figures. Some of the estimates of the loss range as high as $2,000,000.

The statement says nine men have been arrested in connection with the alleged conspiracy, and Rothschild explained that an appeal was made directly to President Taft by the business men concerned, and through the President's intervention Attorney-General Wickesham took the matter up and had an inquiry conducted by Government agents.

While jewelers are said to be the principal losers, dealers in general merchandise are also said to have suffered, and insurance frauds and arson figure in the charges.

The nine men said to be involved were arrested simultaneously in three different Southern cities. The technical charge against them is said to be conspiracy to defraud the Government and withholding assets from a trustee in bankruptcy.

TERSE CALIFORNIA NEWS.

A traveling exposition of California products is planned by the California Development Board. The project is to send through the East and Middle West a number of exhibit cars containing articles produced in this State. Robert Newton Lynch, president of the Board, who last year was instrumental in sending a car representing the north bay counties, has the matter in hand. It is expected that the plans will be matured early this summer.

Bitter jealousies, heart-burnings and a considerable amount of indignation are the result of the visit to San Francisco of His Imperial Highness Prince Tsai Tao. Following an indignation meeting in Chinatown at which accusations of double-dealing and attempts to corral all the honors were freely bandied back and forth, the Oriental quarter was plastered with placards calling upon the local Chinese to repudiate all allegiance to the Imperial Court of China.

For the first time in history there is an over-production of asparagus in California. The market is glutted with the grass at present, and several hundred cases shipped to San Francisco during the last few days from Sacramento to be incinerated. The Sacramento canneries and those down the river, where nearly all the California asparagus is grown, are accepting only the choicest of it, and, while the retail price in the market is about the same as usual, the burning of large quantities of the vegetable is probably responsible for this.

Thomas Elliott, a son of John Elliott, a well-to-do rancher of Franklin, was instantly killed near Sacramento when thrown out on his head in a ditch from an overturning automobile, while Newton Ehrhardt, a brother of Under Sheriff Ehrhardt, sustained a fracture of the skull and is in a precarious condition. The young farmers were driving homeward at a rapid rate of speed along the lower Stockton road. Ehrhardt was at the wheel; the car got beyond control and crashed through the railing of a bridge.

The Mayor of Santa Cruz has vetoed a resolution passed by the City Council which called for the cancellation of all liquor permits and licenses on May 1st, and provided for their reissue. In his opinion, the resolution is in violation of a restrictive ordinance adopted a year ago, which cannot be changed within two years, except by a vote of the people. It was not the intention of the resolution to put the saloons out of business, but to compel their proprietors to make new applications for permits.

Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, wife of the New York financier, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Anna Morgan, and a party of friends, have arrived in San Francisco from the Yosemite valley.

The State Club at its next banquet, which will be held May 3d at the Hotel Sacramento, will listen to speeches to be made by Dr. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and Colonel H. Weinstock on the problems of administration in Australia and New Zealand. State Controller A. B. Nye will preside.

GENERAL NEWS HAPPENINGS.

A school of sea lions has been reported in Galveston, Tex., ship channel by Captain Prendergast of the United States dredge Galveston. There is no record of these animals having been seen in these waters until now. A dead sea lion, found on the beach of Bolivar Peninsula, across the bay from Galveston, is now on exhibition, packed in ice.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw visited her husband, Harry K. Thaw, for an hour at the asylum near Matteawan, N. Y. This was her first visit since Thanksgiving Day last. The trend of their conversation could not be learned. Mrs. Thaw was to have sailed for Europe recently, but postponed her trip.

The City Council of Morrison, Ill., has passed a stringent saloon ordinance, the most peculiar feature of which provides that no saloonkeeper shall throw an intoxicated person from a saloon into the street. Morrison, which has been dry for two years and previously to that time had five saloons, has just gone "wet." The new ordinance passed by the Council reduces the number of saloons from five to four and makes the license $1000 a year, payable strictly in cash and in advance.

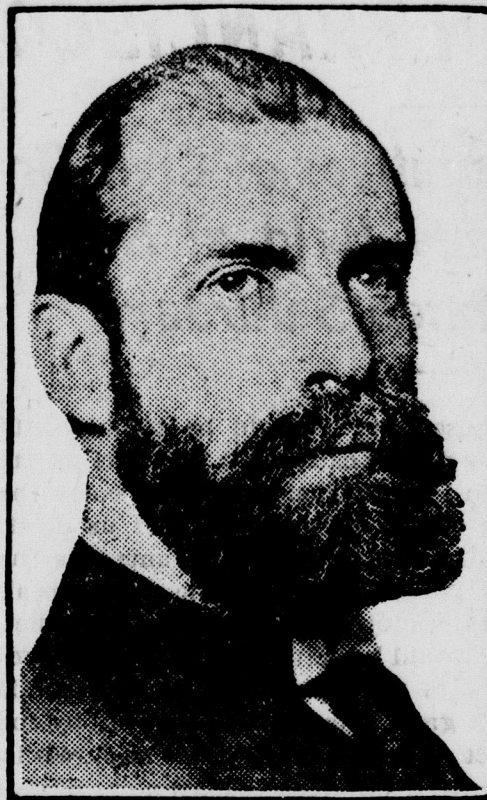

The mysterious disappearance of Norman P. Cummings, the Pasadena millionaire, who was lost in Chicago while shopping with his wife, taking with him jewels and cash amounting to $40,000, was cleared up when it was announced that he has been living at a hotel in Ann Arbor, Mich. In dispatches to relatives Cummings says that he went to Michigan to visit his mother and that his haste to catch the train prevented him from notifying his Chicago relatives. He said that he had wired fully to his wife and that she would join him and they would proceed to California. The Chicago police have dropped the case.

HUGHES CONGRATULATED

Belief That Present Legislative Programme Will Not Be Affected

Messages in generous numbers are pouring into the executive chamber at Albany, N. Y., bearing congratulations to Governor Hughes on his nomination to the United States Supreme Court.

Governor Hughes' determination to accept the offer of President Taft to name him for the Judgeship was the subject of much speculation in the capital as to the effect it would have on pending legislation and the coming campaign. Friends and supporters of the Governor were plainly downcast at the prospect of losing so valued a leader.

Those who have opposed his policies had little to say other than to express their gratification at his appointment, which will remove him from the field of active politics. All agree, however, that the Governor's services in behalf of the Republican party will be greatly missed in the coming campaign. The legislative program probably will not be materially affected by the Governor's action in the opinion of the leaders.

Removes Formidable Candidate.

"It means a Democratic Governor of New York at the next election," was the comment of Roger C. Sullivan, Democratic national committeeman of Illinois, on the appointment of Governor Hughes to the Supreme bench. Sullivan added: "The appointment also removes a likely candidate for the Republican nomination for President two years hence. In New York Hughes was the only man who had even a slight chance to lead the Republicans of that State to victory."

Congress Will Adjourn Early.

Congress will adjourn before the middle of June, and possibly by June 1st, it is believed by President Taft and the Administration leaders. And before that time it is expected most of the so-called Administration measures now before Congress will have been passed, or if not, they will be in such shape that they can be enacted into law soon after Congress meets in December.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES

James Bamford, arrested for contributing to the dependency of his children, pleaded guilty before Judge Wells and was released on one year's probation. It is a condition of his probation that he shall refrain from the use of liquor, must remain employed at a Burlingame bakery and send a sum of money to his wife each week.

A. J. Eddy, a senior in the college of civil engineering, won the gold medal for the best all-round marksmanship at the University of California. His work at both 200 and 300 yards, slow and rapid fire, averaged 38 out of a possible 50. The second place was a tie between H. V. Leffler and A. J. Dias. These two men will shoot again to decide the ownership of the silver medal, which goes to the second-best shot.

Charles Chiften, the man who confessed to the killing of Night Watchman George W. Whybark of Santa Clara several weeks ago, was held to answer before the Superior Court for the crime by Justice of the Peace Thomason of Santa Clara. The theory that Chiften was responsible for the so-called drug-store hold-ups in San Francisco has been abandoned by the officers.

FOUNDERS OF THE CITY OF SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

THE SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY designed in its original plan to make of South San Francisco a great manufacturing center. With that object in view, it originally purchased 3500 acres of land in San Mateo County, on the bay front, five miles south of the City of San Francisco. Since the original purchase, the company has added greatly to its holdings by the purchase of large tracts of adjoining lands, giving to it a perfect environment for the complete development of a great manufacturing city.

The faith which this Company had in its enterprise has been manifest to everyone by the large expenditure it has made in the development of this property. Every foundation which goes to make a perfect condition for manufacture has been already solidly installed, and is a rapidly growing city; it is a railroad terminal; it is on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and accessible to all railroads; has deep water communication; owns and operates for its industries a railroad connecting with the Southern Pacific and the water front; has electric street car service from factory to Town, and direct to San Francisco; has an Electric Light and Power Company; owns an independent Water Works, and has an abundance of fresh water for factory and house; has wharves and docks; a perfect sewerage system; a Bank and a Town Hall; and a population of over 3000 people an extensive and fine residence district, where everyone may secure lands at reasonable prices and on favorable terms, as homes for themselves and their families.

can be obtained from the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company on most reasonable terms.

The completion of the Bay Shore Tunnels has placed South San Francisco on the main lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and forty passenger trains per day connect it with the outside world.

With the completion of the Dumbarton Bridge and Cutoff, now rapidly being constructed, South San Francisco will have all railroads which center in San Francisco passing through its midst.

Many industries are already established here, chief of which are the Western Meat Company, the Wool Pullery, the Soap Works, the Baden Brick Company, Pacific Jupiter Steel Company, the Steiger Pottery Works, the W. P. Fuller White Lead Works, the South San Francisco Lumber and Supply Company, and other enterprises, all of which are in full operation to-day. The American Smelting and Refining Company has purchased over 300 acres of land in South San Francisco for the purpose of erecting a great plant, which they estimate will cost upwards of $5,000,000. The Doak Sheet Steel Company has purchased a large tract of land and has already commenced the construction of a large rolling mill. Other factories have recently made purchases, and South San Francisco is plainly destined to fulfill all that its promoters had hoped.

VARIOUS OPINIONS ON EXPOSITION.

"We must strike while the iron is hot. Let us show the United States and the world at Thursday's meeting that San Francisco is determined to have the Panama-Pacific Canal Exposition, and that she is competent to handle it."—C. C. Moore.

"It is my idea that the director-general of the fair should be a man with an international reputation, a man known and respected throughout the world. The mere lending to the exposition of a great name, such as Roosevelt's, for instance, would be of the greatest benefit."—A. A. Watson of W. W. Montague & Co.

"It seems to me that there should be no objection to the exposition being held outside the present limits of the county of San Francisco. My belief is that by 1915 much of the adjacent territory between the county lines and Redwood City will be a part of the greater San Francisco."—S. H. Kent, 'President Builders' Exchange.

"I think that Mr. Gerstle's suggestion of a miniature reproduction of the canal is excellent, and it would be a great educational feature to thousands of people who will never have an opportunity perhaps to see the canal itself."—L. M. King, President Merchants' Association.

"I believe the features of the fair should be displays of Oriental and United States products. As a special feature, the idea of a miniature canal zone, to be called 'The Big Ditch,' to take in all amusements, similar to those held on the 'Midway' or the 'Pay Streak' would be novel."—O. C. Stine.—S. F. Chronicle, April 26.

The opinions above quoted are the views of broad-minded men, the kind that have within four short years raised the City of San Francisco from the ashes of ruin and desolation to its present splendid magnificence.

First—Get $5,000,000 of home money and get it quick.

Second—Get a big man for director-general—a man of international reputation, able to handle successfully a $50,000,000 exposition, with all the world in attendance.

Third—Select the very best site, whether it be inside or outside the present limits of San Francisco. San Francisco is just entering upon an era of such growth and expansion as has seldom if ever been equalled in the world's history. Before 1915 its limits will extend southward on the peninsula far beyond any proposed exposition site.

These three features are the big broad essential points to make the exposition worthy of the occasion and of the City of San Francisco.

The fourth suggestion of a miniature reproduction of the canal is altogether fitting and in harmony with the central purpose of the big show. If there is to be such a feature no proposed site can compare with the Tanforan site to make the miniature canal a practical success, and at a nominal cost. At Tanforan such a miniature waterway can be opened for a mile in length, with the entire mile of canal at or near sea level, with the tides furnishing the water to fill the canal.

The San Francisco Call is evidently on a hunt for the political scalp of our representative in Congress, Hon. E. A. Hayes.

The San Francisco organ of John D. Spreckels is prosecuting its scalp quest through its news columns.

One day it has the story representing Hayes trembling lest the Lincoln-Roosevelt League claim him as a leaguer, and next day picturing our congressman as fearful lest the league overlook him.

The Call's scalping knife has ceased to be a dangerous or deadly weapon. It has lost its edge through chopping, slashing and hacking both sides of many issues and in many frays.

For a season the Call was a strenuous political reformer. It was for the graft prosecution, for Heney, and against corporation control and corruption; then it toned to a moderate; next it became critical, not of reform, but of reformers, and now at last it is backing and filling in a most mysterious manner, getting ready to get behind Eddie Wolf and the entire band of its old-time opponents.

As for Congressman Hayes, he is probably not greatly concerned regarding the attitude of the San Francisco organ of Mr. John D. Spreckels. Hayes is a Republican and a clean, straight party man.

He did not join the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League, but without making a fuss about the matter he has in congress voted squarely for the principles the league stands for. The Call cannot by misrepresentation queer Congressman Hayes with league republicans, nor with regular republicans. Hayes has made his mark in California and in Congress, and the Call cannot unmake or mar the record.

Hayes is the sort of republican just now needed to strengthen the party in state and nation, and the republicans of California will see to it that he shall bear aloft the party standard in the Fifth Congressional District next November.

The man to be selected to represent San Mateo County in the assembly should be one who is naturally of an active temperament; one who will not only represent the people in a general sense, but one who has the ability in season and out to boost the advantages of this county as a splendid locality for investment in factories and home sites. At his headquarters he should have on file literature, advertising the county in general, as well as the important civic centers, to be distributed to his associates in the legislature. In other words, our next assemblyman should be a man who will place San Mateo County "on the map."

San Francisco has been heard from. Four million dollars planked down in less than two hours breaks all records. The world marks on the map her place as chief mart of the Pacific.

San Francisco will play host to all the world when the nations gather to make glad over the opening of an international and interoceanic waterway.

The democratic party met at Redwood City last Saturday and adjourned.

The bold beginning by which a minority party took the initiative fizzled out and down to nothingness. After all, it settles down to the commonplace; and the minority defers to the majority; and says in substance, "After you, Gaston."

It is now up to the republican majority in the county to take the lead. The republican county central committee is at the helm and responsible for the party until the first vote under the direct primary law has shifted the responsibility. Let the committee get together and call in council leading republicans in every precinct, excluding all office holders, and let such council map out a policy for the party at the primary election.

This is the one thing needed to assure the continuance of republican ascendancy in San Mateo County.

JUDGE M. C. SLOSS

Jurist Made Envious Record on Bench of Supreme Court of State—Business Men and Lawyers of Entire State Rally to His Support.

Judge M. C. Sloss, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of California, has announced his candidacy for re-election to that important office. Probably no man who has ever occupied a public office finished his first term with so many friends and loyal supporters. His masterful handling of difficult legal problems, his fairness and courtesy to all has won for him a host of friends.

There will be no sectionalism or politics in Judge Sloss' campaign. The entire State is equally interested in him, his work and his future. There are already expressions of support from the Southland as well as the North, and many of the most prominent business men and lawyers are active workers in his behalf.

An executive committee, which has charge of Judge Sloss' campaign for re-election, has opened offices in the Alaska Commercial Building, San Francisco, and work has already begun securing signatures to the direct primary petitions.

SHALL SAN MATEO COUNTY BE ANNEXED TO SAN FRANCISCO

able to be called into service in support of it.

E. I. Woodman of this city suggested that the committee to be appointed prepare a circular to be sent to all portions of San Mateo county as an aid in getting the sentiment for or against the annexation of the whole county to San Francisco. If the sentiment resulted favorably, then make a vigorous campaign to annex the whole county, and called it suburban San Francisco. Then we will have influence enough to ask Congress to make the bay front navigable from San Francisco to Dumbarton bridge.

Supervisor J. H. Coleman said invitations had been extended to organizations north San Mateo for the reason that the Greater San Francisco committee had contemplated that part only to be annexed.

E. L. Hoag of Burlingame favored the scheme of annexing San Mateo county to San Francisco, but was opposed to taking in Oakland and the other cities on the east side of the bay.

Judge A. McSweeney thought all matters connected with the annexation movement should be investigated thoroughly, especially the question of protection.

F. A. Cunningham of this city said the people of this county would want to know what benefits would be derived before they would vote in favor of annexation.

Upon motion, the following named were appointed as an executive committee by President Newbert: W. J. Martin, E. L. Hoag, T. D. Boardman, F. J. Gluck and Paul Pinckney.

The conference then adjourned to the call of the chair, after extending a hearty vote of thanks to Manager Doolittle for the use of the room in the Peninsula hotel.

CARUSO'S PLAN TO TRAIN A SINGER

Tenor Wishes to Develop World's Greatest Vocalist.

SEARCHES FOR RIGHT YOUTH.

Fortunate Candidate Must Give Up Other Thoughts and Agree Not to Wed For Ten Years—Commission to Be Endowed With Fortune to Make Human Voice Equal Nightingale's.

Enrico Caruso, the famous tenor singer, has started a search for a youth possessed of qualities that may be developed to produce the world's greatest singer. When found the boy must agree to a legal guardianship by a commission, and he will not be permitted to marry or sing in public for ten years; otherwise Caruso promises the boy will have every desire gratified, and nothing that the tenor's money can buy will be denied. The announcement was made by Theodore Bauer of the Boston Opera company at Boston the other evening.

In his letter received at Boston outlining his plans Caruso states his believe that somewhere there is a boy who, taken in hand and properly trained, will some day sing as no singer has ever sung, not even Caruso himself.

"One thing only shall I insist upon," says Caruso. "Everything else shall be decided by a commission of masters of music. My own experience has led me to believe that there are two places in the world where the untrained voice can best develop—in the Swiss Alps in summer and Naples in winter.

Commission in Absolute Charge.

"I do not believe that I am the best judge of voices. I might be prejudiced by personalities, so that selection will be left to a commission, which will have absolute charge of the boy's training.

"The candidate must not be over twenty years old and must possess the greatest passion for music, besides the natural gift of a fine voice. He must be willing to accept the commission as his legal guardian for ten years.

"He will not for ten years be permitted to marry. I do not want to be misunderstood as being opposed to marriage, but the great tenor of the future will have no time for anything but his art. When he has mastered that, as not one has yet mastered it, there will be time enough for him to take a wife.

Voice Equal to Nightingale's.

"I am willing to endow a commission with a fortune sufficient to insure the carrying out of the plans though I should die before the boy's education is completed. While under tuition he will be allowed to see his relatives on rare occasions, but they are to have no more claim upon him than they would have if he entered the church.

"No human voice has yet equaled the nightingale's, but the formation of the human throat is such that it should be capable of producing music beside which the notes of this most delightful bird should seem harsh and discordant.

"The world has given me fame and fortune, and a part of this debt I propose to repay by giving the world a tenor greater than myself.

"I have already communicated with the director general at Milan and have received the assent of one of the greatest of musicians to be a member of the commission. One other commissioner will be an American and the third either French or German."

AN EASY WINNER.

His Rival Was Prompt in Handing Him the Medal.

Assemblyman John C. Hackett of New York recently told this story in a speech: "I was in Rockland county last summer, and there was a banquet at a country hotel. All the farmers were there and all the village characters. I was asked to make a speech. 'Now,' said I, with the usual apologetic manner, 'it is not fair to you for the toastmaster to ask me to speak. I am notorious as the worst public speaker in the state of New York. My reputation extends from one end of the state to the other. I have no rival whatever when it comes—'

"I was interrupted by a lanky, ill clad individual who had stuck too close to the beer pitcher. 'Gentlemen,' said he, 'I take 'ception to what this here man says. He ain't the worst public speaker in the state. I am. You all know it, an' I want it made a matter of record that I took 'ception.'

"I HADN'T GONE FAR WHEN HE GOT UP AGAIN."

"Well, my friend," said I, 'suppose we leave it to the guests. You sit down while I say my piece, and then I'll sit down and let you give a demonstration.'

"The fellow agreed, and I went on. I hadn't gone far when he got up again. 'S all right,' said he—you win; needn't go no further.'

The Waiter's Mistake.

A rather fastidious man, hurrying to catch a train, found when he reached the station that he had time to get a bite to eat. So he entered a nearby restaurant and gave his order. Then he looked at the napkin beside his plate and to his horror discovered a number of yellow egg stains on it.

"Waiter," he said in a shocked voice, "look at these egg stains on my napkin!"

"Beg pardon, sir," the waiter answered, turning the napkin over. "I folded it the wrong way, sir."

Do It Now.

If there be lying before you any bit of work from which you shrink go straight up to it. The only way to get rid of it is to do it. In every piece of honest work, however irksome, laborious and commonplace, we are fellow workers with God.—F. B. Meyer.

A Sailor's Compliment.

As Miss Margot Tennant, Mrs. Asquith electrified London with her beauty, her wit and her high spirits. Mr. Gladstone admired her, and the novelist Benson owed his success to the portrait that he drew of her in "Dodo."

Gladstone, Tennyson and other distinguished persons made a cruise to Norway one summer in Sir Daniel Currie's yacht. Miss Margot Tennant was among the party, and her gayety and beauty enchanted all on board, from Tennyson and Gladstone down to the cabin boy.

Mr. Gladstone and Miss Tennant, promenading the deck one morning, paused and talked awhile with a sailor.

"Are you married?" Miss Tennant asked him.

The sailor touched his cap and answered:

"Yes, ma'am; I'm sorry to say I am."

The Rib.

The following quotation was taken from a Connecticut woman's diary, dated 1790: "We had roast pork for dinner, and Dr. S., who carved, held up a rib on his fork and said, 'Here, ladies, is what Mother Eve was made of.'

"Yes," said Sister Patty, 'and it's from very much the same kind of critter.'

Harry W. Bauer, a dentist recently from Ketchikan, Alaska, committed suicide in his room in a Seattle hotel by drinking cyanide of potassium. His body was found by a hotel employee. Dr. Bauer's wife is visiting friends in California. The cause for his action is not known.

Breaking It Gently.

The somewhat careless major of an English regiment stationed in India returned to London after an absence of several years. His sluggish liver needed touching up, he thought, and so he went to a famous physician for advice and paid his advance charge.

"Major," said the doctor, "you are in a serious condition, but I think we can pull you through. You must purchase a tub four feet wide and two deep. Then you must fill it with tepid water."

"Not boiling, doctor?"

"No; merely tepid. Then you must stand in it and with a sponge moisten your body. Having done this, you must apply some saponaceous matter."

"Will plain yellow soap do?" asked the patient.

"Yes," said the doctor. "Having thoroughly scoured yourself, you must dry off with a rough towel."

"Why, doctor, this is awfully like a bath!" exclaimed the veteran.

"Well, it is open to that objection," replied the famous physician, "but I feel, sir, that you need it."

The Abiding.

Pain and pleasure both decay,
Wealth and poverty depart,
Wisdom makes a longer stay.
Therefore be thou wise, my heart.

Land remains not, nor do they
Who the lands today control.
Kings and princes pass away.
Therefore be thou fixed, my soul.

If by hatred, love or pride
Thou art shaken, thou art wrong.
Only one thing will abide—
Only goodness can be strong.
—Richard Henry Stoddard.

A Regular Soak.

One of the younger of Louisville's business men said that he has recently been entertaining a customer from out in the state. This customer is a good buyer and has many other endearing traits of character admirably combined with a native simplicity equal only to his lack of sophistication. While he was in town he was entertained by the young business man at his own bachelor apartment.

The first evening that he stayed he wished to take a bath, but shortly after he had splashed around for a few minutes there was a period of silence, and then came his voice in tones of genuine alarm.

"Bill, oh, Bill," he called, "come here quick!"

His friend entered the bathroom to find him limply extended in the empty bathtub.

"I d-d-d-unnow what's the mu-mu-matter," he stammered, "b-b-but there's somethin' awful the mu-mu-matter with me. I've soaked up all the wa-wa-water!"

He had inadvertently kicked the stopper out of place and allowed the bathtub to empty itself.—Louisville Times.

Redirected.

The struggling author boldly entered the editorial sanctum.

"I have come with my latest story," he announced.

"Well," ejaculated the busy editor in a resigned voice, "let us hear how it runs."

"Well, this is from the first chapter: 'Casper had been standing as motionless as a block of granite. Suddenly he dropped on his knees before the beautiful girl with the alabaster brow and boldly proposed. It was then that she answered with a stony stare and told him that to him her heart was marble. Then'—"

But the busy editor interrupted him. "Young man," he remonstrated, "you have made a mistake. Take that story down to the nearest stone yard. This is an editorial office."

His Exact Condition.

A Dublin cabman drove a "fare" out into the country from Dublin to attend a ball. The "fare" paid him well and told him to look under the seat of the cab.

Cabby found a quart bottle of Irish whisky under the seat, and he proceeded to sample it. He also gave some to the horse. Telling about it in court the next day, cabby said:

"After I'd been givin' the baste a few drinks, afore I knowed what was the matter I wor in the shafts pullin' the keb an' the horse wor up in the sate lashin' me wid the whip."

"You were drunk," said the court.

"I wor not drunk," he replied.

"Were you entirely sober?" inquired the court.

"I wor not entirely sober," he replied.

"Then what was your condition?"

"I wor on the defensive," he said.

Wanted Only Hustlers.

Stetson, the once well known theatrical manager, more famous if possible for the "breaks" he made than for his many successes, attending the rehearsal of one of his plays, noticed that a man in the orchestra who had to play the trombone was holding the instrument in front of him and doing nothing.

Mr. Stetson at once called him to account.

"Say," said he, "what do you mean by not working along with the other fellows?"

"Why, Mr. Stetson," said the musician, "I can't play. I have nineteen bars rest."

"Not on your life!" replied the angry manager. "I don't pay any one for resting. Either you play when the other fellows do or you clear out, see!"

GIVING FORTUNE AWAY

Guardian for Farmer Who Was Giving His Wealth Away.

During the last few months W. A. Alloway, a wealthy farmer of Snohomish county, Wash., near Everett, has sent about $20,000 to Mrs. Weise, head of the colony of the Church of God Society, a religious colony formerly located in Snohomish county, but which recently migrated to Southern California, near Los Angeles. To prevent Alloway from giving away any more of his fortune Judge Black of the Superior Court of Everett appointed W. P. Alloway, a son, guardian of his father and mother.

The testimony showed that Alloway has received no security whatever for the money sent Mrs. Weise. Alloway admitted he had been giving away his wealth from land sales, but declared that he did so at command of the Lord, with whom he conversed as he would with a man. The Church of God Society bought a piece of land in Snohomish county several years ago and founded a religious socialistic colony. The colony flourished at first, but last summer many of its members desired to move to the warmer climate of Southern California.

Frank Nieto, the fifteen-year-old son of Rabbi Nieto of San Francisco, was accidentally drowned in Lake Lagunitas, while rowing on the lake with a companion, Daniel Donisberger, also from San Francisco, who was rescued by some students.
